Annual Report to Parents on the Implementation of the Special Educational Needs (SEN) Policy and Disability Equality Scheme 2022-2023.

Schools have a duty to report annually to all parents on the provision for Special Educational Needs (SEN) and implementation of their disability equality scheme. Children with special educational needs all have learning difficulties or disabilities that make it harder for them to learn than most children of the same age. These children may need extra or different help from that given to other children of the same age. The Special Educational Needs Code of Practice (2015) lies at the heart of the school's SEN policy and sets out the processes and procedures that all organisations should follow to meet the needs of children. The Code recognises that children learn in different ways and can have different kinds of SEN. Children with identified special needs receive intervention and are placed on the SEN register at SEN support. Where necessary, support and advice is sought from outside agencies to meet the needs of these children. If further support is required the school may request a statutory assessment of special needs, which may result in an Education, Health and Care Plan being issued to the child. Where pupils previously had a statement of educational needs these have all now been transferred to Education, Health and Care plans (EHCP).

Policies:

The SEN policy was rewritten to ensure compliance with the new code of practice, last reviewed in February 2022. This document then went through a consultation period with staff and parents of pupils with SEN. The final policy was ratified by the governors and is published on the school website.

Termly Pupil Progress meetings are held by the Senior Leadership Team with teachers from each year group. In these meetings progress of children with SEN is discussed and the provision that is in place for them is analysed. These meetings are also an opportunity for staff to raise concerns and identify any children that may fit the criteria for SEN.

Strong links exist with our local secondary schools. Meetings take place between SENCOs to ensure accurate and efficient transfer of records and information in order to minimise the disruption of support levels for pupils transferring to secondary schools. Separate transition and induction visits were set up for pupils with SEN where required.

Staff Development:

- This year staff have attended continued professional development in SEN.
- Pastoral support plans are in place for pupils with social, emotional or mental health difficulties.
- There are individual learning plans for pupils with severe and complex needs.
- Sensory circuits interventions are delivered across the school for pupils with sensory processing difficulties.
- Clever hands and fizzy interventions are provided for pupils with fine and gross motor skill difficulties.
- Speech and language interventions are delivered to pupils with communication difficulties. -
- Read Write Inc phonics interventions are provided for pupils with literacy difficulties.

Disability Duty - Accessibility and Future Plans

Under the Disability Equality Duty schools are required to take proactive steps to ensure their disabled pupils, staff and governors, parents/carers and other people using the school are treated equally. Schools are required to establish a Disability Scheme to promote equality of opportunity for disabled pupils, which sets out to improve access to facilities and the physical environment of the school, as well as the curriculum and information for pupils. Steps taken to prevent disabled pupils from being treated less favourably than other pupils:

- Disabled toilet
- Visual timetables in class.
- Visual support in classrooms.
- Coloured overlays.
- Coloured exercise books.
- Inclusive ethos of school.
